

> Dual Degree

■ Objectives

This dual degree program is intended to prepare high-profile candidates to undertake managerial positions that combine general management capabilities with specialized logistics and supply chain management skills.

The exclusive resources available at both schools can deliver that needed understanding and knowledge to deal with complex management issues as well as the ability to design and operate global networks.

Dual degree students can graduate with the following degrees in only 20 months:

- Master of Engineering in Logistics and Supply Chain Management (ZLOG) at the Zaragoza Logistics Center (ZLC) in Zaragoza, Spain.
- MBA INCAE Business School, Costa Rica.
